

Dr Walter Tarello provides blood testing from his office in Dubai. I've paste below is bio for reference:

Thank you for your interest in my microscopy-based activity focused on the search of zoonotic agents transmitted by biological vectors.

I performed such tests for more than 30 years on all kind of animals and humans as well. I specialized in the search of agents (bacteria, protozoa, fungi) transmitted by ticks, mosquitoes and other insects, included but not limited to babesia, anaplasma, mycoplasma, bartonella, candida, ehrlichia, staphylococci, filariae and borrelia.

I will send you by email the micro photographs of the abnormalities detected in the slides, based on my experience and scientific knowledge, which is resumed in the 64 scientific papers of mine published on peer-reviewed journals in the last 20 years:

I hope that you would like to read some of these articles.

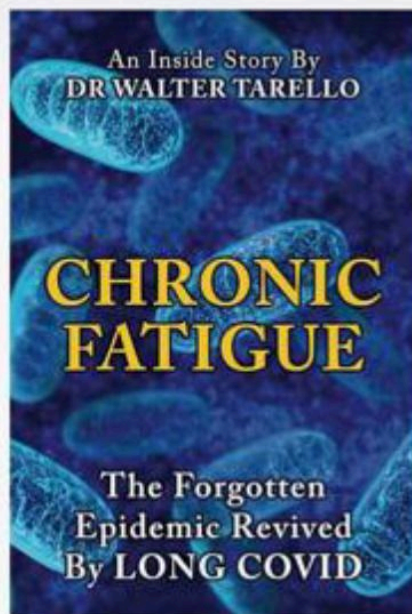

You can find more information about these agents affecting humans and animals in my book titled published in July 2024 and available from Amazon in paperback and kindle versions (see enclosed attachments). I strongly recommend you to read this book during your slides examination, to better understand the evocative symptoms and suggestive signs of each and every agent of chronic fatigue, compared with yours.

The preparation of the slides is determinant in view of a good microscopic observation and detection Here you can find instructions on how to perform a perfect blood smear: How to make a blood smear

Please free free to purchase his book off amazon, if you want to, obviously you don't have to.
